THE STOLEN HORSE.

An Old Proverb With a New Application.

The woods are full of "so-called" remedies for Baldness. You may call anything in creation a remedy, but to use them is like locking the stable after the horse is stolen.

Baldness and Dandruff are caused by a germ—if you don't kill the germ the germ will kill the hair. Scientists have labored with the problem of a preventive for baldness for many years.

Newbro's Herpicide is the product of a modern idea, and will cure Dandruff and prevent Baldness because germs cannot exist when you apply Herpicide.

ORDER OF OWLS IS NOW A REALITY

A lodge with perhaps the greatest membership of any ever organized in Bisbee was that instituted by A. J. Barrett Friday night, when about two hundred enrolled themselves in the local nest of the Order of Owls.

The Owls promise at first shot to take rank with the most active of them now in Bisbee and the officers elected are sufficient to guarantee this as well as a good time occasionally. The social feature is the big end of this organization and has fair to rival the Elks, Eagles and Red Men for honors of being the best entertainers. The Owls will meet every Friday night at Odd Fellows' hall. Following were the officers chosen:

President, George S. Gage. Past President, A. F. Roberts. Vice President, L. C. E. Adams. Invocator, Sid Fontaine. Warden, O. S. French. Treasurer, A. Kline. Secretary, R. B. Krebs. Inside Guard, H. Newcomb. Outside Guard, Charles Smith. Trustees, N. P. Olson, James F. McDonald, Joseph Lippert.

JURY FINDINGS FAVOR LARSON IN REEL DEATH

Defendant Struck the Blow That Resulted in Death But Had no Criminal Intent Is the Coroner's Verdict.

"John W. Reel came to his death as the result of a blow not being of Jack Larson, said blow not being delivered with criminal intent."

Such was the verdict of the coroner's jury in Justice High's court last evening, investigating into the death of John W. Reel found dead in the Broadway rooming house a week ago Friday evening, and whom Jack Larson admits having hit in the back of the neck.

The witnesses at the inquest were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pitts, the former a machinist and the latter landlady of the Broadway; Hiram Brown, in whose room Reel was when called outside by Larson; Dr. Edmundson, who made a post mortem to determine the cause of death, and Larson himself.

Mrs. Pitts was the first witness and testified as to having told Reel to cut out his loud talking, as Mrs. Larson was ill in the next room. Brown told substantially the same story as printed in the Review several days ago concerning his part in the affair.

Attorney Alexander Murry, Jr., representing Larson, asked him if Larson did not pass the door previous to the time he came in and escorted Reel outside. Brown stated he could not recall that he did, although he might have.

Walter Pitts then stated that he was in the back yard when the affair happened, that he first saw Reel after he had been taken out on the porch and was pronounced dead.

Dr. Edmundson told of his post-mortem and the fact that Reel died from a blow on the neck, back of the right ear.

"Could such a blow have been caused by the fist of a powerful man?" asked Attorney Murry.

"It could," replied the doctor. Then Larson took the stand. He stated that his wife was dangerously ill and had been so since the birth of their child ten days before. He stated that even at present she was at death's door.

"Reel came in and was using loud and boisterous talk," said Larson. "Brown's room was next to the one I and my wife occupied. My wife asked me to get her a drink of water I went after it and as I returned I passed Brown's door. It was open and Reel was talking loud and using rough language. I asked him to talk lower, as my wife was very ill. I then went on and he apparently paid no attention.

MANY ATTEND THE MATHESON FUNERAL

With the casket hidden by flowers sent by those from every walk of life, who for months have been entertained by the company of which she was a member, the funeral of Miss Margaret Matheson, the victim of the shocking tragedy of last Tuesday, took place at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The O. K. undertaking parlors was taxed to its capacity and many who could not gain admission remained outside until the casket borne by fellow-members of the Orpheum company, was placed in the hearse and started upon its last journey. Those attending were mostly women and nearly every one of them brought a bouquet, which they placed with the other offerings about the casket. Several wreaths, the tribute of members of the company and theater attaches, occupied places upon the coffin.

Rev. Fr. Meurer conducted the services. The pall-bearers were C. A. Walker, Hartwell Nowell, Ed Flynn, Dave Clifford, E. Willard and Chas. Harding.

Miss Matheson, the aunt of the deceased, together with the members of the Orpheum company as a number of friends, accompanied the remains to Evergreen cemetery.
